

Australian & New Zealand Common Ground Community of Practice

OUR VISION

Collaborating on effective, evidence informed Permanent Supportive Housing models, policies and practices to help End Homelessness in Australia

OUR MISSION

1. To promote collaboration amongst Permanent Supportive Housing providers to drive best practice models to ensure people experiencing homelessness can move into housing and stay housed.
2. To provide a national community for the sharing of experiences and effective policies and practices amongst permanent supportive housing providers.
3. To collaborate with local and national partners to advocate to end homelessness in Australia.

OUR PLAN

The Common Ground Community of Practice was established in 2013. It meets by teleconference monthly and meets face-to-face once a year. The Australian Alliance to End Homelessness (AAEH) supports this Community of Practice with facilitation and administration.

ABOUT THE AAEH

The Australian Alliance to End Homelessness (AAEH) is an independent champion for preventing and ending street homelessness in Australia since 2013. We recognise that the scale of homelessness in Australia is both preventable and solvable and are committed to working to ensure that any incidents of homelessness that do occur should be rare, brief and non-recurring. AAEH supports Australian communities to individually and collectively end homelessness.
